Executive Summary

In 1967, the Hawai'i State Legislature created the Crime Victim Compensation Commission (the "Commission") to mitigate the financial impact suffered by victims of violent crime. The Commission disburses funds to pay un-reimbursed expenses for crime-related losses experienced by victims who suffer physical or emotional injury, or death, as the result of a violent crime. During Fiscal Year ("FY") 2011, the Commission processed over 1,100 compensation payments, including 783 new applications for compensation.

No State general funds have been appropriated for the Commission since FY 2003, and the Commission is now funded solely from non-tax revenue and matching federal funds. Maintaining a consistent and adequate source of non-tax revenue to fund both compensation for crime victims and operating expenses remains an important fiscal issue facing the Commission.

The Commission continues to pursue its mission to provide each claimant with compassionate and timely service and to improve the overall delivery of victim compensation services. Commission projects include efforts to increase non-tax revenue through a more consistent assessment and collection of the mandatory Crime Victim Compensation Fee (the "Compensation Fee") by the Judiciary, and an increase in the amount of reimbursement the Commission receives through restitution from the Restitution Recovery Project. Commission efforts to reduce expenditures include the Medical Expense Reduction Project, and a lease rent reduction under the current office space lease.

The Commission actively collaborates with numerous public and private agencies dedicated to serving crime victims as part of its efforts to improve the overall delivery of victim services. In pursuing this mission, the Commission serves on the Governance Committee of the Hawaii Statewide Automated Victim Notification Project, and as a member of the Justice Reinvestment Working Group.

The Compensation Fee is the Commission's primary source of non-tax revenue and the assessment and collection of the Compensation Fee is vital to the Commission remaining fiscally self-sufficient. Since the implementation of the Compensation Fee, the Commission encountered significant barriers to collecting the Compensation Fee. Courtroom surveys revealed that judges were not ordering the Compensation Fee in all eligible cases.

Concerned that insufficient funds were being collected, the Legislature passed a resolution in 2007 requiring the Judiciary to report its progress in ordering and collecting the mandatory Compensation Fee. Issues relating to the Judiciary's assessment and collection of the Compensation Fee appeared to be successfully addressed in large part after the Judiciary reported on its progress to the 2008 legislature. As a result of the Judiciary's efforts in this regard, collected Compensation Fees increased from $853,850 in FY 2007 to over $1,030,000 in FY 2008. In FY 2009 Compensation Fee collection increased to over $1,073,000, only to drop off significantly in FY 2010 to $879,600, and $898,658 in FY 2011.

The Commission reported the recent discrepancy in collection to the Judiciary and requested their assistance in replicating their efforts that worked so well in increasing Compensation Fee collections in FY 2008 and FY 2009.

The Restitution Recovery Project (the “Restitution Project”) began in 2003 to collect restitution payments from inmates and parolees, and to disburse those funds to their crime victims, or to the Commission in cases where the Commission previously provided a compensation award to the crime victim. Restitution is paid to directly reimburse the Commission in cases where the Commission previously provided a compensation award to the crime victim for medical and mental health expenses, or funeral costs, generating the necessary funding for more crime victims to receive assistance.

The Commission has opened over 3,500 restitution and compensation fee cases and collected nearly $1,400,000.00 to disburse to crime victims from January 1, 2003 through June 30, 2011.

As a result of the Restitution Project, more victims have received increased amounts of restitution payments from offenders, and the Commission has received more reimbursements through restitution for compensation previously paid on behalf of crime victims. These increased restitution payments support and enhance the victim’s ability to recover, serve to hold the offender accountable to the victim of their crime, and assist the offender in developing a sense of self-respect by righting the wrongs the offender has committed.

The Medical Expense Reduction Project seeks to reduce and contain escalating medical expenses by: 1) requesting that medical treatment providers accept payment of seventy percent (70%) of the fees charged (a thirty percent [30%] reduction) as payment in full for the medical services provided in cases involving uninsured crime victims; and 2) negotiating with the several medical treatment providers to each accept a proportionate share of the Commission’s maximum award as payment in full for the medical services rendered in cases where a victim’s total medical expenses incurred exceed the statutory maximum award of $20,000.00.

While not all medical providers in the cases selected for the Expense Reduction Project agreed to take a reduced payment as payment in full, in the Expense Reduction Project cases where the Commission was successful in FY 2011, crime victims realized savings of more than $224,000.00 from medical bills of more than $530,000.00 in the aggregate, a savings of more than forty-two percent (42%).

The Commission was able to reduce its operational expenses for office space lease rent by nineteen percent (19%) over a two (2) year period after initiating, and successfully concluding, a lease rent re-negotiation with its landlord.

In 2009, the Department of Public Safety received federal grant funds to implement an automated statewide victim notification system. The Statewide Automated Victim Notification Program (SAVIN) provides automated notification of the custody status of inmates and parolees to crime victims, victim service providers, law enforcement agencies, and members of the public. The Commission serves on the SAVIN Governance Committee, which guides the SAVIN Program. The Governance Committee is comprised of victim service providers and advocates, victims, technology experts, and members of the criminal justice community. Federal funding for the SAVIN program will expire on June 30, 2012.

The Commission serves as a member of the Justice Reinvestment Working Group (JRI). JRI is a bipartisan, inter-branch effort to develop a comprehensive data-driven plan to return mainland prisoners to Hawaii and to redirect the cost savings to programs that reduce crime and enhance victim and community safety. This effort is facilitated by the Council of State Governments, the Pew Center on the States and the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Assistance.

Mission Statement

“The mission of the Crime Victim Compensation Commission is to equitably and efficiently provide crime victims with the services due to them under Hawai‘i law. In doing so, the Commission treats every victim and survivor with dignity and respect, acknowledging the tremendous impact that violent crime has upon crime victims and our society.”

Overview and History

The Hawai‘i State Legislature created the Commission in 1967 to compensate victims of violent crimes for their out-of-pocket expenses, losses, and pain and suffering resulting from the crime. The Commission was only the third organization of its kind in the country when it was established.

To be eligible for an award, a victim of a violent crime must report the crime to law enforcement without undue delay, apply to the Commission for compensation within eighteen (18) months after the date of the incident, and provide the Commission with documentation of their expenses and losses (i.e., medical bills, insurance statements, pay stubs, etc.) resulting from the crime.

The Commission has processed over 22,000 victim applications since it was established, and presently awards between six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000.00) to over one million dollars ($1,000,000.00) per year in compensation to crime victims. These awards have assisted victims with medical costs, counseling costs, lost wages, and funeral expenses not covered by other sources. Many victims would not be able to receive rehabilitation services, counseling services, or bury a loved one without compensation awarded by the Commission.

Through 2001, the Commission relied primarily on State general funds to finance compensation awards and operating costs. In 2003, the Commission became fiscally self-sufficient, relying solely on the following:

- Compensation Fees assessed by judges against criminal offenders
- Court-ordered offender restitution as reimbursement for compensation awarded
- Ten percent (10%) of Hawai‘i inmate wages (for offenders convicted of violent crimes)
- Interest income from funds on deposit
- Federal VOCA funds – the Commission receives a sixty percent (60%) federal match for every State dollar expended to compensate victims of violent crime

Annual Activity

Operations

During FY 2011, the Commission received 783 new applications for compensation and processed over 1,100 compensation awards. The Commission gives each application full consideration and works diligently with every applicant to ensure accurate and efficient claims processing.

FY 2003 was the first year that the Commission operated without expending any Hawai'i taxpayer dollars. This means that all funds expended by the Commission come from the non-tax revenue sources listed above on of this Report. It is, therefore, essential that the Compensation Fee be assessed and collected by the Judiciary in all eligible cases. The Commission necessarily must rely on cooperation and support from the Judiciary to assess and collect the Compensation Fee from convicted offenders in all eligible cases.

*“Thank you very much for your administrative decision and order. I accept [the monetary] . . . award for my daughter . . .
Thank you all very much for your help.”*

It is vitally important to note here that Hawai'i now receives a sixty percent (60%) federal match from the Victims of Crime Act (VOCA). This means that for every dollar of Compensation Fees not assessed by judges against, and collected by the Judiciary from, all eligible convicted offenders' results in a compounded total loss of one dollar and sixty cents due to the concomitant loss of the sixty percent federal match.

Rent Reduction – Nineteen Percent (19%) Lease Rent Reduction

In May, 2009, the Commission was informed by the Comptroller, through the Department of Public Safety, that a Department of Accounting and General Services (DAGS) budget restriction of $1,360,000 for state lease expenditures would be passed through DAGS to the several state departments. The restriction represented a nineteen percent (19%) reduction in the cost that DAGS was willing to pay for the rent under existing leases.

The Commission took the initiative and immediately contacted its private landlord directly and proposed a twenty percent (20%) reduction in its office space lease rent. When the landlord responded with a counter offer of a nineteen percent (19%) reduction for the period beginning on July 1, 2009 and ending on June 30, 2011, the Commission worked through DAGS to finalize an Amendment to the existing office space lease for the newly negotiated, and reduced, lease rent.

Compensation in Action

Case #1 – Visitor Crime Victim

The 23 year-old male Victim was visiting Hawai'i when he was punched in the face by several unknown males. The Victim sustained various injuries, including a bilateral mandible fracture and intracranial hemorrhage. The Victim's medical expenses exceeded $48,000.00 within seven (7) months; the Victim did not have health insurance benefits. The Commission's awards are statutorily limited to $20,000.00, so the Commission proactively engaged in a process of negotiating with the Victim's medical care providers to discount the cost of their services, and to accept a proportionate payment of the Commission's maximum award as payment in full. The Commission is pleased to report that most of the Victim's medical care providers have accepted a partial payment from the Commission as payment in full.

“I want to thank you for your support and caring assistance to crime victims in your jurisdiction. The Crime Victim Compensation Commission has been a Godsend to our son. Physically, he is improving everyday from the brutal assault and robbery he suffered ... while he was visiting Hawai'i We are so grateful for the support and the valuable service the Crime Victim Compensation Commission provides. There is no way, even with the financial support of his family, [that he] could cover the medical expenses he incurred as a result of this assault. I can't express how much we appreciate what you have done for us. Because of all the church groups and individuals who have been praying..., we all believe the Crime Victims Compensation Commission is an answer to those prayers.”

- Parent of Crime Victim #1

Case #2 – Sexual Assault of a Minor Victim

The male Victim reported to police that, beginning in the fifth grade, he was sexually assaulted repeatedly by his uncle. Victim suffered emotional trauma. The Commission awarded, and will continue to award, compensation for mental health services provided by the Sex Abuse Treatment Center.

Case #3 – Assault Victim Restitution Recovery

The 52-year-old male Victim was assaulted by another male with a metal baton. Victim suffered lacerations to his head and incurred $3,980.23 in medical expenses. The Commission negotiated with medical providers to accept $2,873.47 as payment in full. With the assistance of prosecutors and victim witness advocates, the Commission requested, and the court ordered, that the defendant be held accountable for his actions and pay restitution to reimburse the Commission. To date, the Commission has collected $2,372.25 from the Defendant.

Case #4 – Assault Victim Restitution Recovery

The 52-year-old male Victim was assaulted by another male with a metal baton. Victim suffered lacerations to his head and incurred $3,980.23 in medical expenses. The Commission negotiated with medical providers to accept $2,873.47 as payment in full. With the assistance of prosecutors and victim witness advocates, the Commission requested, and the court ordered, that the defendant be held accountable for his actions and pay restitution to reimburse the Commission. To date, the Commission has collected $2,372.25 from the Defendant.

Case #5 – Motor Vehicle Accident Victim

The 50 year-old male Victim was injured as the result of a Negligent Injury I incident where the driver hit the Victim's vehicle head-on. The Victim suffered a fractured right upper tibia, a fractured pelvis, pain to his entire back, chest, and abdomen area, a broken middle toe, and various abrasions and contusions. The federal social security department determined that the Victim became disabled on the date of the incident and was unable to continue working as a commercial manager. After exhausting all no-fault motor vehicle insurance benefits, the Victim was still facing substantial medical expenses and lost earnings. The Commission awarded the Victim the $10,000.00 maximum award to pay for the remaining medical expenses as well as to compensate the Victim for lost earnings incurred as a result of the crime.

Commission Projects

Assessment and Collection of the Mandatory Crime Victim Compensation Fee

The Legislature established the mandatory Crime Victim Compensation Fee in 1998 to provide a funding base for the Commission to begin the process of becoming fiscally self-sufficient. The mandatory Compensation Fee must be assessed by judges against every offender who is convicted of, or who enters a deferred plea (DAG/DANC) to, a petty misdemeanor, misdemeanor, or felony, and is able to pay the fee.¹

Since the implementation of the Compensation Fee, the Commission encountered significant barriers to collecting the Compensation Fee. For fiscal years 1999, 2001, and 2002 combined, the Judiciary fell nearly one million dollars short of its own estimates for Compensation Fee collections. After 2002, the Judiciary ceased providing estimates for Compensation Fee collections. Courtroom surveys revealed that judges were not ordering the Compensation Fee in all eligible cases. For example, judges were (1) waiving the Compensation Fees, but assessing fines with lower priority; (2) not assessing the fee for each eligible offense committed by the same defendant; or (3) unaware of the Compensation Fee altogether.

When attempts to collaborate with the Judiciary failed, the Commission requested, and the Legislature passed in 2005, an increase of five dollars ($5.00) in the Compensation Fee for all crime categories. The Judiciary's collection of the Compensation Fee again fell short of anticipated revenue increases. Concerned that insufficient funds were being collected, the Legislature passed a resolution in 2007 requiring the Judiciary to report its progress in ordering and collecting the mandatory Compensation Fee.

Issues relating to the Judiciary's assessment and collection of the Compensation Fee appeared to be successfully addressed in large part after the Judiciary reported on its progress to the 2008 legislature. As a result of the Judiciary's efforts in this regard, collected Compensation Fees increased from $853,850 in FY 2007 to over $1,030,000 in FY 2008. In FY 2009 Compensation Fee collection increased to over $1,073,000, only to drop off significantly in FY 2010 to $879,600, and $898,658 in FY 2011.

The sharp decrease in Compensation Fee collections from FY 2008/FY 2009 to FY 2010/FY 2011, may be related to the fact that the action taken by the Judiciary that worked so well to increase Compensation Fee collection in FY 2008 and FY 2009 may not have been continued as consistently as when the issue was being carefully reviewed for purposes of the legislative report. In addition, a significant number of new judges have been appointed to the bench since 2008, and they may need training as they may not have received the benefit of the Judiciary's efforts in this regard.

¹ Section 351-62.6, Hawai'i Revised Statutes, provides that the court shall assess a Compensation Fee against every convicted offender, or offender who enters a deferred plea, and who is or will be able to pay the Fee. Fees are assessed as follows:

1. a $30 fee for a petty misdemeanor;
2. a $55 fee for a misdemeanor; and
3. a $105 to $505 fee for a felony.

The Commission reported the recent discrepancy in collection to the Judiciary and requested their assistance in replicating their efforts that worked so well in increasing Compensation Fee collections in FY 2008 and FY 2009.

The Commission will continue its court monitoring efforts, as well as its efforts to work collaboratively with the Judiciary to ensure that the Compensation Fee is assessed by judges in all eligible cases.

Restitution Recovery Project

“...in the criminal justice system, the victim of crime is almost always neglected. By requiring the convicted person to make restitution and reparation to the victim, justice is served. In so doing, the criminal repays not only “society” but the persons injured in the criminal’s act. There is a dual benefit to this concept: the victim is repaid for his loss and the criminal may develop a degree of self-respect and pride in knowing that he or she righted the wrong committed.”

Sen. Stand. Comm. Rep. No 789, in 1975 Senate Journal @1132, commentary on the Senate’s intent in passing HRS section 706-605(1)(e) which authorizes Courts to order restitution.

Section 706-605(1)(e), Hawai‘i Revised Statutes was enacted in 1975 to provide the Courts with specific statutory authority to order defendants to make restitution payments to reimburse the economic losses suffered by the victims of their crime. Since the enactment of this provision, a significant number of victims have not received the court-ordered restitution that they are entitled to. Victims have found it particularly difficult to recover court-ordered restitution from sentenced felons² and parolees.

The Judiciary previously processed restitution payments for all offenders, including inmates and parolees. For a decade, the Judiciary made efforts to divest itself of the responsibility for processing restitution payments made by inmates and parolees. During this time period, the Judiciary and the Department of Public Safety (“PSD”) had been at an administrative stalemate over who was responsible for processing restitution payments made by inmates and parolees.

The system to process court-ordered restitution payments was not working. In order to open a restitution account for an inmate or parolee, the Judiciary required the name and address of the victim before they would accept any restitution payments. This procedure created a significant barrier to the payment of restitution by inmates and parolees. In many cases, it was difficult or impossible for PSD and the Hawai‘i Paroling Authority (the “Paroling Authority”) to secure the name and address of the victim. Victim service providers were understandably uncomfortable about giving the names and addresses of domestic abuse, sexual assault, and other crime victims to PSD and the Paroling Authority. There were concerns that victim safety would be jeopardized if an inmate or parolee inadvertently saw the name and address of their victim in their case file.

Despite numerous meetings between the Judiciary, PSD, the Paroling Authority, and victim service providers, and several false starts, efforts to resolve this issue ultimately failed until the Commission stepped forward. With the support of the PSD Director, the Paroling Authority, and the Honolulu Victim Witness Kokua Program, the Commission initiated a pilot project to collect and disburse restitution paid by inmates and parolees.

² Excludes inmates sentenced to incarceration as a condition of probation.

On January 1, 2003, the Commission initiated the pilot Restitution Project to collect and disburse restitution paid by inmates and parolees. The Commission has opened over 3,500 restitution and compensation fee cases and collected

“Because of the collaborative efforts between the Crime Victim Compensation Commission and the Hawai‘i Paroling Authority, there are more timely payments of restitution to crime victims than there have been in the past.”

Tommy Johnson, Administrator, Hawai‘i Paroling Authority

nearly $1,400,000.00 to disburse to crime victims from January 1, 2003 through June 30, 2011. Information identifying the whereabouts of crime victims is kept confidential so that the safety needs of victims are being met. The barriers that made it difficult for PSD and the Paroling Authority to open restitution accounts at the Judiciary have also been eliminated. PSD and the Paroling Authority need only send restitution payments to the Commission and, in turn, the Commission disburses the restitution payment to the victim.

A functional Restitution Project benefits all involved. It is now easy for Parole Officers to increase the accountability of offenders by having them repay the crime victim they injured. This Project also assists the County Victim Witness Programs in their efforts to restore the crime victims they serve. In cases where the Commission previously provided compensation awards to crime victims for medical, mental health, or funeral costs, the Commission receives direct reimbursement of those funds, allowing more crime victims to receive assistance.³

“Restitution is the cornerstone of restorative justice. Saying we are committed to restorative justice means nothing unless we make a sincere and concerted effort to make sure victims get restitution - without that - restorative justice means nothing. If an offender is not serious about paying restitution, they are not serious about rehabilitating themselves.”

Dennis Dunn, Director, Victim Witness Kokua Program, Department of the Prosecuting Attorney, City and County of Honolulu

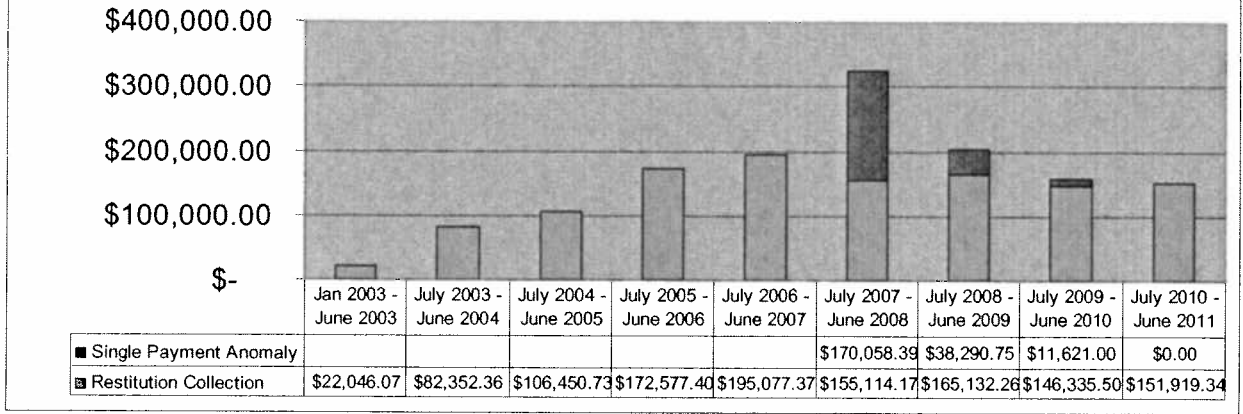

Restitution Collection

Restitution collection from inmates and parolees⁴ has increased significantly over the life of the Project. In the first calendar year (2003) of the Restitution Project the Commission collected more than $46,000.00 and in the past calendar year (2010), the Commission collected more than $156,000.00, The Commission believes that the significant increase in restitution collections over the life of the Restitution Project reflect the gradual institutionalization of restitution assessment by judges and collection of restitution by the correctional facilities and the Paroling Authority.

⁴ Restitution payments are from inmates and parolees and do not include payments from inmates incarcerated as a condition of probation.

Restitution Collection 2003-2011

Compensation Fee Collection

The Restitution Project has also resulted in an unexpected increase in the collection of the Compensation Fee from parolees. In the first full fiscal year (FY 2004) of the Project, the Commission collected almost $1,700.00, and in the past fiscal year (FY 2011), the Commission collected almost $29,000.00 in Compensation Fees. While the Paroling Authority has statutory authority to collect Compensation Fees from a parolee, the correctional facilities do not presently have the necessary statutory authority to garnish inmate wages to pay court ordered Compensation Fees.

Compensation Fee Collections from the Restitution Project 2003-2011

A collateral benefit of the Restitution Project was the identification by the Commission of a number of concerns impacting the assessment and collection of restitution. The Commission then worked in collaboration with other agencies to address and resolve these concerns. Some of the improvements resulting from these collaborative efforts include:

1. Creation of two new computer interfaces connecting the correctional facilities and paroling authority to the Commission's restitution payment database. This improved the correctional facilities' and parole officers' ability to enforce restitution orders and to accurately track inmate restitution payments.
2. Creation of a comprehensive manual on the restitution process for prosecutors and victim witness advocates. The manual not only explained the prosecutor's and victim witness advocates' role in recovery of restitution but also provided practical support in the form of procedures, sample orders, and case law.
3. Conducted trainings statewide for prosecutors and victim witness advocates. The training resulted in increased restitution assessment and helped to standardize restitution procedures in all courts.

“The restitution training for prosecutors and victim advocates was both inspiring and helpful to seeing victims get back every single penny that they lost as a result of a crime. The manual gave us significant tools for seeking restitution from sentencing courts.”

Douglas Chin, former First Deputy Prosecuting Attorney,
City and County of Honolulu

Even with all of this progress, a number of concerns remain outstanding.

When funds are received by the Commission, restitution payments to crime victims have not been timely due to a lack of adequate staffing necessary to make such payments more quickly than is possible at the present time. The Commission has requested approval to fill one vacant position in order to address this issue and to expedite financial support to crime victims.

In a recent survey of restitution collection from inmates by PSD, the Commission identified two additional areas of concern:

1. Restitution payments from inmate workline wage deductions are not being forwarded to the Commission for payment to victims on a timely basis;
2. Court ordered restitution is not being deducted from inmate wages in all cases, as required by statute, because restitution accounts are not being opened by the correctional facilities for all inmates who have been ordered by the Court to pay restitution.

The Commission surveyed 224 inmate restitution cases to determine whether the correctional facilities were enforcing restitution orders as required by Hawaii Revised Statutes (HRS).⁵ HRS §353-22.6 provides that the PSD Director enforce restitution orders through a ten percent (10%) deduction from workline wages. Of the 224 restitution cases, 179 inmates with restitution orders worked, but there were no deductions from those inmates' workline wages for restitution and in

⁵ The survey was not a random survey. Cases surveyed included, but are not limited to: 1) cases where Commission received a judgment ordering an offender to pay restitution, but no payment was ever received; 2) cases where restitution was previously paid, but there was a lack of payment activity for more than a year; and 3) recently opened cases with payments from the mainland branch or the paroling authority (cases where the paroling authority began collecting restitution, and restitution was not collected by the correctional facilities). Some offenders in the survey were already off status.

65 of those cases, more than one correctional facility failed to identify that the inmate had been ordered to pay restitution. More than seven thousand dollars ($7,000.00) in workline wage deductions were not collected because the correctional facilities failed to identify that the inmate owed restitution.

PSD is drafting a plan to improve restitution collection and applied for federal Byrne Grant funding to hire a Victim Coordinator. Hawaii is the only state that does not have a victim service component as part of the public safety department.

While there has been significant progress in addressing some of the issues that obstruct the ability of Hawaii crime victims to recover their crime-related losses from restitution, significant institutional barriers remain. Some of the barriers were highlighted in a recent series of articles published in the Honolulu Star-Advertiser. These barriers include, for offenders on probation or otherwise supervised by the Judiciary, an inability to track how many offenders owe restitution, what they owe, and how much they have paid, and the Court's failure to enforce its own restitution orders. In response to these articles the Judiciary formed a Restitution Working Group to address these issues.

In a response to the editor, Rodney A. Maile, Administrative Director of the Courts, wrote, "...offenders' failure to fully pay court-ordered restitution is a difficult, complex and long-standing problem, but one that absolutely has to be addressed because of the hurtful impact it has on victims and because non-compliance with court orders undermines public trust and confidence in the justice system"⁶

The Commission is confident that the efforts of the Judiciary's Restitution Working Group will result in significant improvements to the current restitution system. The Commission has always believed that the leadership and commitment of the Judiciary is a necessary element of any successful effort to improve restitution assessment and collection.

Medical Expense Reduction Project

The Commission initiated the Expense Reduction Project in FY 2006 to reduce overall medical expenses of uninsured victims of violent crime. Escalating medical costs have further taxed the Commission's already limited resources. This is especially evident in cases where the victim's medical expenses are not covered by medical insurance. In an attempt to mitigate rising medical costs, the Expense Reduction Project has proven to be an unqualified success and absolutely necessary to allow the Commission to continue providing much-needed financial assistance to the victims of violent crimes in Hawai'i.

Compensation for crime-related medical expenses is limited under Section 351-62(b), Hawai'i Revised Statutes, to a maximum of $20,000.00 in cases involving compensable medical expenses⁷ for catastrophic injuries. This limit is easily exceeded when a violent crime victim is hospitalized for more than several days. Many crime victims who are uninsured fall into the gap group who make too little money to afford medical insurance, and too much money to qualify for Quest medical insurance.

The Commission has taken a two-pronged approach to this issue:

1. Medical Expenses Do Not Exceed the $20,000.00 Statutory Limit

The Commission requests that medical providers accept 70% payment from the Commission as payment in full for their services for uninsured crime victims. In this way, the Applicant is not responsible for the remaining 30% of the expenses, and the Commission retains more funds to benefit other crime victims.

2. Medical Expenses Exceed the $20,000.00 Statutory Limit

The Commission leverages the $20,000.00 maximum award against the full amount of the medical expenses owed by the Applicant by requesting that the medical providers accept the Commission's payment as payment in full. This has enabled the Commission to leverage the $20,000.00 maximum award available for compensable medical expenses to benefit the Applicant by not having any remaining balance due.

While not all medical providers in the cases selected for the Expense Reduction Project agreed to take a reduced payment as payment in full, in the Expense Reduction Project cases where the Commission was successful in FY 2011, crime victims realized savings of more than $224,000.00 from medical bills of more than $530,000.00 in the aggregate, a savings of more than forty-two percent (42%).

⁷ §351-62 Limitations upon award of compensation. ... (b) No compensation shall be awarded under this chapter in an amount in excess of $10,000; provided that, if a case involves compensable medical expenses in excess of $10,000, no compensation shall be awarded in excess of $20,000 or the actual amount of compensable medical expenses, whichever is lower....

Statewide Automated Victim Notification Program

In 2009, the Department of Public Safety received federal grant funds to implement an automated statewide victim notification system. The Statewide Automated Victim Notification Program (SAVIN) provides automated notification of the custody status of inmates and parolees to crime victims, victim service providers, law enforcement agencies, and members of the public. The Commission serves on the SAVIN Governance Committee, which guides the SAVIN Program. The Governance Committee is comprised of victim service providers and advocates, victims, technology experts, and members of the criminal justice community.

In FY 2011, the Commission requested technical assistance from the National SAVIN Training and Technical Assistance Project to assist the Governance Committee and other stakeholders in developing a strategic plan to address two critical issues facing SAVIN:

1. Sustainability of the SAVIN program in light of current State budget constraints and the pending expiration of federal grant funds on June 30, 2012; and
2. Placement of SAVIN. Various SAVIN Governance Committee Members had concerns about which State agency should house the SAVIN program.

A series of strategic planning sessions were conducted on March 1 to 4, 2011, by Anne Seymour from the National SAVIN Project Team. The resulting report and recommendations acknowledged the importance of the SAVIN program to victims and public safety, and included recommendations to draft legislation to ensure that SAVIN program continues after federal funding expires, and to place the permanent program in PSD.

Justice Reinvestment Working Group

The Commission serves as member of the Justice Reinvestment Working Group (JRI). JRI is a bipartisan, inter-branch effort to develop a comprehensive data-driven plan to return mainland prisoners to Hawaii and to redirect the cost savings to programs that reduce crime and enhance victim and community safety. This effort is facilitated by the Council of State Governments, the Pew Center on the States and the U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Assistance.

Conclusion

For each of the past forty-three years, the Commission has provided enhanced levels of service to the victims of violent crime in Hawai'i. The Commission has streamlined case processing by increasing management efficiency, cultivating strategic partnerships with other public and private agencies, and making significant progress towards fiscal self-sufficiency. Even with all of these improvements, the Commission will maintain its pursuit of strategies to further improve services to crime victims.

The Commission will continue to diligently pursue its mission to mitigate the financially costly and emotionally devastating impact of violent crime on citizens and visitors through continued collaborative efforts, further improvements in management efficiency, and strong staff commitment.
